Personal Story

Tim's passion for primary/secondary education was forged in his bleak but inspirational beginnings. A series of unfortunate events and impositions cast a shadow over much of his childhood. Sporadic poverty, traumatic injuries, substance abuse and other adverse events splintered his family and ushered in a self-destructive adolescent mindset. Fateful interventions from local heroes in the school & police department rescued Tim and resurrected his outlook on life. Tim credits these local heroes for saving his life, and wishes more than anything to pay their meaningful legacy forward.

Today a humbling assortment of public plaques, dedications and resolutions stand as tribute to Tim's pursuit of the legacy that was once gifted to him. Yet he is proudest when standing alongside the parents and public servants whom today fight for the future of our youngest generations.
